Craig Keith – Roofing/Waterproofing Consultant

Craig's professional roofing and waterproofing background began in 1970 with a major roofing firm in Corpus Christi, Texas. He began as an estimator, project manager, and later as a Managing Partner for a large commercial roofing firm. His background in the roofing and waterproofing industry includes roofs of all types including: historical restoration, installation of roof decks, below/above grade waterproofing, dampproofing, installation of plaza deck waterproofing and building facades.

Craig's extensive experience in the roof/waterproofing industry and as a managing partner has enabled him to advance as one of the few competent roofing/waterproofing consultants in the southwest region. He opened a Roofing Consultant business in 1995, with his first commissioned project at the World of Tennis resort of Lakeway in Austin, Texas. He has since been providing roofing and waterproofing consulting and sub-consulting services to numerous client's such as, Austin Independent School District, The University of Texas at San Antonio, The University of Texas at Austin, Texas Workforce Commission, Austin-Bergstrom International Airport, Northeast Independent School District and numerous other clients.
